Join Us at the July Luncheon

V. Wells Brabham IV, MD - FACS Vascular & Vein Specialists

THE PROGRAM Saving Limbs and Lives: Early Detection of Peripheral Artery Disease

Peripheral artery disease (PAD) affects millions of people every year. Left untreated, PAD can lead to amputation. Dr. Brabham will discuss PAD risk factors and symptoms, how PAD is diagnosed, and how it is treated both medically and procedurally.

THE PRESENTER

His professional interests include complex aortic repair, carotid disease, minimally invasive and surgical treatment of peripheral vascular disease, and venous disease (DVT). Communicative and caring, he strives to treat each patient as if they were a member of his own family. MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

by Kevin Pearce

ach One, Bring One. Djuana Parker, our former GMDM President, began using this slogan at GMDM. And it can change the world.

In 1800: Thomas Jefferson was elected President by one vote in the House of Representatives after a tie in the Electoral College.

In 1824: Andrew Jackson won the Presidential popular vote but lost by one vote in the House of Representatives to John Quincy Adams.

In 1845: The U.S. Senate passed the convention annexing Texas by two votes.

In 1867: The Alaska purchase was ratified in the Senate by two votes, paving the way for future statehood.

While you may be happy or sad at the above results, I think you would have to agree that one person can make a difference just by what they choose or choose not to do.

When you choose to sign up to attend the GMDM luncheon, it makes a difference. If you didn't, your place would be empty, the conversations you might have would not happen, and others would not experience your presence.

And if you bring another person with you, you've doubled your impact. I bet you know someone to bring. See you at the July luncheon.

Recognize Your Role

y youngest daughter played volleyball in high school. She had great coaches. I wasn't one of them.

Sitting in the stands, I recognized the main benefit of knowing little about volleyball: I couldn't multi-role. I was laser-focused on my unique strength: Dad.

Trying to fill multiple roles can be a lot like multi-tasking – code for doing several things in a mediocre manner at the same time. It's an illusion to believe you can be "all things to all people."

MONTHLY

ENCOURAGEMENT

It's time to hone in on your key role by identifying your innate strength:

- Encouragement.
- Strategy.
- Innovation.
- Listening.
- Showing empathy.
- Gathering resources.
- Steadfastness.

Focus on what you do best. Then, invite others to rise to the challenge of doing the same.

HEALTHCARE LAW & YOU

by Karen McKeithen Schaede

Q: What is the Pregnant Workers Fairness Act?

A: The Pregnant Workers Fairness Act (PWFA) is a new law that went into effect June 27, 2023. It expands federal protections for pregnant workers. Under PWFA, an employer:

- Must make reasonable accommodations for an employee who has limitations due to pregnancy, childbirth or other related conditions.
- Cannot deny employment based on the need to provide accommodation.
- Cannot require leave if there is another reasonable accommodation available.
- Cannot discriminate due to a request or use of an accommodation by an employee.

The act applies to employers with 15 or more employees. Reasonable accommodations can include such things as the ability to sit, flexible working hours and additional break times. If the PWFA is not followed, the employee has a right to a private action under the law.
